“ I have known these two for a very long time. Sue has been my friend for about fifteen years and I am not that old. These two together make the word love understandable. u could just feel the passion of these two when they approached you.

 I have come to know what love really is just bt watching these two, and helping Sue with David I learned a little more everyday about these two just by watching them together here in their home. Sue has introduced me to what love really is. God has a answer for everything that happens to us. We are to never question his work, or word. I thank you both for showing me the way that life is meant to be. God bless you Sue. I love you and thank you everyday for being one of my dearest friends. Thank you
