“ This may be late but never too late to talk about a memory of papa

When I was younger and me and my sister and dad and mom would go out to papas and grandmas house me and my sister and my papa would go out side they lived kinda in the country and so we would either take the gift cart or we would walk on his good days to see the buffalo or two even just go and throw rocks in the river there one day when it had just rained and me and my sister were playing hide and seek and there was a hole I did see because of mud and my foot got stuck in it and my sister went and got papa and he picked me up and me being my younger self I screamed as I lost my shoe in the mud 🤔 he spend hours finding a way to get my shoe back and he did get it back for me I miss him a lot but he is in a better place
