“ John will always be a special part of our family. He had a love for Star Trek, the rock band Heart, and a never ending curiosity for how things worked. The writers of the sit-com The Big Bang Theory had to have known John to develop the characters that are so similar to him. John had a unique cheerfulness and smile. He didn't let the small things in life get to him. Somehow through the years, he addressed our mother as Mom Bob. From then on, he was called John Bob. John was blessed to find a loving, supportive wife and partner that brought him years of happiness he so richly deserved. Thank you Sandy for taking such great care of him. You are in our prayers. We love you John Bob and look forward to our eternal days together.

I know there is nothing anyone can say to make this easier for you, just know that prayers are with you all in this hard time. Psalms 30:5 ...weeping may stay for a night, but joy comes in the morning...
