“ Dear Trout family. I was very glad I could be with you at the funeral to share your grief and support you. I am very glad for the personal tiem to renew acquaintances personally after these years apart, and to meet new second cousins personally. I am glad I got to visti Uncle Roy earlier this year when he was still in comparatively good health. I love you all. Orville Boyd

“ Wanda,P.J., Lindell,...I can remember as a kid, going to the house on Cherokee Place after church..Roy would entertain me with his trick of blowing on his thumb and watching his big arm muscles pump up when he blew...I do that with my granddaughter, but my muscle doesn't seem to get as big as Roy's did..he was a Godly man..like Dad, he lived life here for the next one to come..you don't have anything to be sad about, knowing where he is now..be happy for him... I always enjoyed hauling hay for Roy too when we were in high school...he took care of us boys..God Bless you and your family! Glen Fox

“ Wanda,Phyllis & Lindell- So sorry to hear of Roy's passing. Roy was not only a good Christian, but a good Father and friend. I can still remember hauling hay for him when we moved across the street. May God Bless You and confort you during this time, but as we know, let us rejoyce that Roy is now in heaven and that is what we are all striving to make the heavenly roll.

“ Roy Trout was one of the reasons I became a Christian. His Sunday school lessons and the life he lived made a perfect role model for many people. We had planned on Roy performing our wedding but, he got sick at the last minute and wasn't able to. Phyllis and I thought a great deal of Roy. Wanda, Phyllis and Lindell, we know you will miss him for a long time, but he's happy and well now and watching over you all. You're in our prayers.

“ Wanda, Phyllis, Lindell & families,

I am so deeply sadden to hear about Roy. When I am at Scott's looking out the back door at your old home, I can't help but think of the good ole' days. We had a lot of fun on those two blocks. I always enjoyed visiting with Roy. Now he is with our Heavenly Father. Cherish your memories for they will always be in your heart. May God keep you in His care.
